NOT UP IN METHODS. THE REPORT ON THE GEORGIA

IN THE CONGREGATIONAL COUNCIL The Committee Report That the Georgian

Have Not Been Able to Come Up to Normal Methods of Fellowship. WORCESTER, Mass., October 10.-In the Congregational council teday the committee on roll submitted an additional report on the roll submitted an additional report on the Georgia question as follows:

In reference to the delegates from the conference in Georgia, your committee have had full interviews with them, and also with delegates from the association of Georgia, and heard the case on both sides. The difficulty in dealing with this question of reception of delegates from the conference, is in the present incompleteness of organization of aburches in the methods of fellowship. They adopt Congregational principles in the internal affairs of their respective churches, but have not been able to come up to the normal methods of fellowship with other Congregational churches.

Your committee considers the principle of fellowship in ecclesiastical relations of churches, expressed in councils or other ways as an essential feature of Congregationalism, as much so as the self-government of the two churches. It is this principle that seems to be defective in the present methods of the conference of Georgia. At the same time they wish to do the delegates justice. They have been hearty in their expressions of Christian fallowship for the association. They have tried to secure the welcome of ecclesiastical fellowship with hem, which was not accepted and they say if they can have time to choose their own methods of ecclesiastical fellowship. In the committee of the common lore of Congregationalism. Now, whether it is better to receive the delegates of the Georgia conference with this incomplete application of methods of Congregationalism, and trust then time Christian fellowship will work out into nemal ecclesiastical fellowship, or refuse to admit them till they have affected an organization in the basel Congregational way is a question about which your committee are not agreed, and which they refer to council.

Generally Fine Weather for Picking—Some Damage by Worms.

Washington, October 10.—Cotton returns of the first of October, to the department of agriculture, show a large plant growth, active opening of bolls, the fibre in good condition, and generally fine weather for picking, yet the plant is everywhere reported late, and fears are expressed that frost may seriously shorten the crop. The condition is naturally reported high, with a reservation by the most intelligent correspondents that the present favorable appearances are deceptive, that in seasons of excessive moisture the outcome falls below expectation. A large crop will be gathered. The crop has been injured more by moisture than drouth, though some soils and localities have been too dry in September.

Worms have wrought considerable injury, notwithstanding the general use of insecticides, especially west of Alabama. Camplaint of adulteration of paris green is made in certain quarters.

NEW YORK, October 10 .- It was reported in New York, October 10.—It was reported in this morning's papers that the "City of New York" was aground in the channel, but this is a mistake, as she is a little east of electric buoy No. 5½ Great anxiety is felt about the position of the big steamer. One report has it that the steamer is sinking, while the company expects to get her off at 3 p. m. She made the trip in six days, ten hours and twenty minutes. One or two arrests were made, the parties arrested having tin plate cit so that when placed dover the tickets ohly the names of the sepublican candidates could be seen. These were furnished negroes who were unable to read, and by them carried into the polling places to mark their tickets by. A very light vote was polled, not reaching 5,000 of the 7,200 registered voters easting their ballots. One ward is yet to hear from. McCarver, democrat, is now 752 ahead of both republican and prohibition candidates. McCarver has carried eleven of the twelve wards heard from over both other candidates. The straight democratic ticket is elected throughout, all running close up to McCarver. A carred estimate late tonight makes the final result as follows: McCarver 2,700: Triuble, republican, 1,150; Wright, prohibition, 750. There is general rejoicing here tonight among-the democrats, who were anxious over the figures the prohibitionists would cut. The result is entirely satisfactory.

Storming a Saloon.

Lima, Ohio, October 10.—Several weeks ago the neighboring town of Lafayette passed a prohibition ordinance, and all of the saloons were closed. A few days ago a saloonkeeper of this city went to Lafayette and opened a place. He was waited upon by a committee, who informed him that his business was not required there, but he continued, and the town officials got out an injunction to stop him. The judge decided in his favor, and he resumed business with more openness than ever, Early yesterday morning his saloon was bombarded by a crowd of several hundred persons. They came suppled with stones and sledge hammors, and, surrounding the place, commenced to storm it. The doors and windows were broken and the crowd rushed in. LOVE AND JEALOUSY. Years' Sentence to Repent an Act o

Jealousy.

"Ten years is a long time—it is too severe!"
said J. J. Patterson, as the tears trickled down his cheeks from two brown eyes.

Patterson is under sentence of ten years for cutting his wife at Grant's park last summer. The story of the man as connected with cutting his wife at Grant's park last summer. The story of the man as connected with this woman—his wife—is pathetic.

"Whisky is a bad, bad thing," said he, "but there is nothing on God's earth so bad as the madness of a loving man's jealousies. My crime was not committed under the Influence of strong drink. It was jealous frenzy for the only woman I ever loved," said he, sighing.

Then dashing a tear from his cheek, he went on:

Then dashing a tear from his cheek, he went on:

"I learned to love her when she was an innocent country girl, from the good old county of Banks. Her name was Narcissie Bell, and her parents came to Atlanta from Banks county for the purpose of giving her the advantage of public schools. I learned to love her while she was yet a blooming school girl, living on the corner of Luckie and Foundry streets. I loved her then, I love her now, and from the abundance of that love I was aggravated into committing the rash act for which I am sentenced to serve ten years in the chain gang. It's too severe—it's too severe," remarked the prisoner, between his sobs.

"There is no love without jealousy," he went on, as the tears ran down his cheeks. "Show me a husband who has not jealousy for his wife and I will show you an unloved woman. Show me a woman who is free from jealousies and I will show you a heart that is void of love. It was all love—love intense—that caused me to do as I have done. If I had not loved I could not have been aggravated into this crime.

"I know that my walk in life was not as to do as I have done. If I had not loved I could not have been aggravated into this crime.

"I know that my walk in life was not as pure as it should have been, but with my hand on my heart. I tell you that all the blur that should stand marked against me is connected with this wo man-this wife of mine."

And a heavy sigh went up.

"I committed indiscretions, on a visit of her and myself back to Franklin county," he went on, "but I appeased the law and saved her character by a marriage that was as holy and sacred to my heart as is any marriage recorded in Georgia." And a smile with something of happiness in it played over his feature.

"One time, too, I got into a row and was severely cut with a knife. That was when I was nineteen years old. I suffer now from that wound, but my conscience is clear and the people around the dear old church of Indian croek, where the difficulty occurred, will bear me out that I was not to blame. This is the only difficulty I ever had except the ones with Narcissie, and for which I am now sentenced to the penitentiary."

Then after a pause, during which he appeared to be in thought, he went on:

"The sentence is too severe, but if I knew that its very severity would cause one pang in the woman's heart who has aggravated me to this, I would be content. She knew I loved, and in her pets drove me to frenzy. A woman's temper and a jealous nature is the cause of all this. I am sorry and I hope she is."

TO VOTE TODAY.

THE OLIVE BILL TO BE SETTLED ROBABLY THIS MORNING.

DR. FELTON MAKES THE WELKIN RING

The House Give the Whole Day to It Yes-terday—A Lively Discussion—Judge Lawson to Speak Today,

The Olive bill, and all pending substitutes, will more than probably be disposed of teday will more than probably be disposed of today by the house.

Nearly all of yesterday was given to debate on the bill, Mr. Gamble, of Jefferson, and Dr. Felton making powerful arguments against the measure and in favor of indefinite post-ponement, and Mr. Berner supporting the bill in the most effective speech delivered on that remarks to the constitutional argument of Mr. Lamar.

He argued at some length to sustain his position that the constitution was mandatory. The command was positive, "to enforce by appropriate legislation." Not one paragraph in the constitution was self-operative. The machinery was lacking—the law that prescribes a method of procedure, and other de tails. Judge Harrell then quoted from the speech of General Toombs, made before the constitutional convention in reference to the paragraph under discussion. He said that the speech was almost prophetic, so accurately did it picture the evils existing today in railroad combinations.

MR. GAMBLE, OF JEFFERSON, followed in a masterful and logical speech, opposing the bill. This was generally spoken of yesterday as one of the strongest constitutional arguments made this session.

Mr. Gamble argued that the constitution did

Mr. Gamble argued that the constitution did not command the legislation contemplated by the Olive bill, nor does it command any legislation upon this subject. He read the whole of article 4, and demonstrated that the 4th paragraph was purely a negative, and requires no legislation. It is similar to paragraph lst of section 1st of the same article, and to paragraphs 2 and 3 of section 2 of the same article. You might as well undertake to enforce the bill of rights by legislation as to legislate upon paragraph 4. General Toombs, the leading spirit in the constitutional convention of 1877, was the author of this paragraph 4, and it was put there in order to forever settle the quesspirit in the constitutional convention of 1877, was the author of this paragraph 4, and it was put there in order to forever settle the question which arose in the case of Collins vs. the Central railroad. In that case the question was whether or not the Central railroad by its charter had authority to make a contract of this character, and General Toombs, in order to avoid all ambiguity upon this subject in jegislative charters, incorporated this paragraph in the constitution. Paragraph 7, which provides that the provisions of article 4 should be enforced by appropriate legislation, applies simply to those sections which are positive and capable of enforcement. You will observe that paragraph 1st and 5th provide in themselves that they shall be enforced by adequate penalties whilst nothing is said in the other sections as to their enforcement. They are simply negative and enforce themselves. The argument, therefore, that the constitution is mandatory falls to the ground and there is no constitutional obligation resting upon any member to vote for this measure; so much for the constilution.

member to vote for this measure; so much for the constitution.

There is a great hue and cry raised against combination by rallroads when every other branch of industry is combining. This is an age of combination. Instead ef combination among rallroads being an evil it actually results in good to the country at large. The bagging trust has turned out to be a blessing in disguise, because it has united the farmers, has caused them to form a combination; taught them that cotton bagging can be made of cotton; that bagging can be made from pine straw, and that jute can be grown in Georgia as well as in In dia.

Jute can be grown in Georgis as well as in In dia.

There is no necessity for any legislation upon this subject. The exigencies of the times do not call for it, and the people do not demand it Freight and passenger rates are cheaper than were ever known before. The present railroad service is the cheapest ever known. It is an actual fact that the railroads haul one ton of pig iron for eight mills. There comes no complaint from the people; no cry of distress. There exists no cause of complaint and there should be no legislation on this line. It is argued that the large and powerful railroads throttle smaller roads. That is a mistate. If a small company have unficient means they can build a railroad as well as they can anything else. When they fail, they fail for the want of money, and the only way to build a railroad is to get it from the money marts of the world, and we can never get money or negotiate bonds when we indulge in such hostile legislation as this.

Besides, we have a railroad commission to control and regulate these monopolies; they stand botween the people and all danger, and there is no cause for alarm or anything to cause it. This section of the constitution, to which appeal is made, has slumbered for twelve years, and has been only awakened by some persons engaged in futile efforts to build railroads. Jeafousy and rivalry are at the bottom of the movement. There being no constitutional obligation upon the subject and no necessity for such legislation, the bill should not pass.

I think he made a mistake, sir, You remember, sir, there is quite a controversy, an excitement, in New York now as to how a criminal "shall be put to death. Mr. Speaker, I noticed some time ago, during the last session of congress, that some members of our congress were desirous of repealing the tariff upon jute for the purpose of breaking up this jute trust. Mr. Speaker, rather than repeal that tariff, I, If I was a member of congress, would vote to put a tariff of 500 per cent ad valorem upon every pound of jute or jute bagging imported into these American states. I would make it absolutely prohibitory, and the result would be that we would resort to our own cotton, and create a new demand for our cotton; enhance the price of our cotton; increase it is consumption and create a new demand for our cotton; enhance the price of our cotton; increase its consumption and create a new demand for our cotton; enhance the price of our cotton; increase its consumption and create a new demand for our cotton; enhance the price of our cotton; increase its consumption and create a new demand for our cotton; enhance the price of our treater throughout the world that it does not heart up one trust or one combination, meet it with a counter movement. Mr. Speaker, the tendency is to combinations in all trades everywhere. Why, sir, I noticed the undertakers have formed an association known as the Undertakers' association, and a man c mort receive a decent burlai without his estate coming in contact with the Undertakers' association. And for the ben-fit of my friend from Meriwether, who alluded to this fact on yesterday, I will state to him, for his comfort, that I am informed that coffins were neverso elegant and never cheaper than they are loady. [Applause.]

[Applause.]
Iron foundries are combining; furnaces are combining merchants are combining; manufacturers of every description are cembining, forming associations for mutual protection, for mutual profit. The farmers of the south and west are forming their associations and combinations for mutual rotection and mutual benefit. Let me say o you, sir, as we all know, that very come a farmers' exchange is to be established in Georgia. What is the object? To reduce the price of every article that they buy and to enhance the price of every product they sell. Let me say to you that this Farmers' Alliance, this farmers' combination, this farmers' association, has been made for mutual protection, and for mutual profit, and I am glad of it. Belonging to that class of honorable industry and being interested in everything that promises success and encourages prosperity to the agricultural interests of Georgia, being myself benedited when agriculture is benefitted. I rejoice that this effort is being made for our mutual benefit, our mutual profit. Very well; if the farmers have the right to combine, where, gentlemen, do you get the culty where do you get the law, where do you get the vount of the railroads the same right and privileges that you are practicing?

Mr. Speaker, aggregated wealth is the principal.

bine, where gentlemen, do you get the equity, where do you get the law, where do you get the authority. In the name of God, to deny to the railroads the same rights and privileges that you are practicing?

Mr. Speaker, aggregated wealth is the principal factor in modern civilization. Bear it in mind; aggregated wealth; wealth coming together; wealth forming associations and companies and corporations; it is the principal factor in modern civilization. It has dug down the mountains; it has leveled the valleys; it has constructed highways over which the civilization of the world is marching to still greater victories. Bear it in mind, sir, that the railroad is the principal factor in modern civilization of the world is marching to still greater victories. Bear it in mind, sir, that the railroad is the principal factor in modern civilization. It is true, sir, that learning had accomplished much for the world; it is true the literature of the world had achieved spleudid victories; it is true some magnificent inventions have been made giving information to the world and giving triumphs, out the industries of the world seemed to be dormant; they seemed to be in twilizat haze until science constructed the railroad from Manchester to Liverpool, the object of which railroad was to transport southern bales of cotton from Liverpool to Msnehester. It was then, sir, when this road was first constructed that the industries and enterprises, the material prosperity of the world, seemed to be imbued with power from on high. It was then, sir, at that time, and only then, when it had seemingly been waiting for this power, it was then that these industries were commissioned to go forth into the world sumbering in twilight darkness, and everything awoke to a new life and to new glory. Yes, it is the cotton principal sumbering in twilight darkness, and everything awoke to a new life and to new glory. First it is the cotton principal and the railroad in the world in a special principal summer in the south that was the inspiration of rights and privileges of that system that has been the glory and inspiration of its wealth and of its power.

Now, sir, they are common carriers. We admit this. They are common carriers, and the legislature has given to them the power—empowered them to condemn private property. Very well, they must be subject to law. They must be obedient to law they must be under law. My friend from Webster just now stated that every corporation must be subject to law. I heartly indorse that sentiment. Most cheerfully do I indorse that sentiment. Some years ago the legislature of Georgia, imbued with that idea, that general sentiment, created a railroad commission and armed it with full and sufficient powers to give reasonable and just rates to every shipper in the state of Georgia. I am informed authoritatively that General Toombs himself remarked, when the commission law was created, that he did not then care if every railroad in Georgia was under one management and one supervision. The very author, the soul and inspiration of that clause in your constitution that you are seeking to enforce, General Toombs publicly and in a crowd, aunounced that he did not care it every railroad in the state was under one management and supervision. A corporation was then under the law; it was then under under one management and supervision. A corporation was then under control. Very well, sir. Not only so, but a few days ago you armed that commission power to requiate joint freights; continuous mileage. You gave it authority to practically, and beneficially for the people, treat every railroad in Georgia as a member of one grand combined system of railroads in the state of Georgia. Bear it in mind. Your vote, my friend from Monroe, your vote of Georgia. Very well. Are you now going by statute, to break up and condemn that very system and combination that you authorized and required the other day by your vote upon this joint raie system? That is the question. No,sir. That commission has power now to treat every railroad as a member of a combination - continuous mileage. It gives just and reasonable rates; secures it. guarantees it to every shipper in Georgia, and I assert without fear of contradiction, there is not a shipper today in the state of Georgia who is oppressed by any unreasonable or unjust freight charges or passenger tariffs, not a man. Bring him out. Let us know his name, the community, the place, the individual who is oppressed by unreasonable and unjust railroad charges were never cheaper than they are today.

I notteed in the morning's paper that you can buy a ticket from Savannah to the city of Atlanta and return for four dollars. Three hundred miles six hundred miles of travel, safely and expeditiously made, You can buy a ticket today in the city of Savannah, come to Atlanta, remain there during the expression, and return for four dollars; and yet here is my friend did not my free for the old Roman through the composition, and silk dresses. Silk dresses! Silk stockings and silk dresses!

Now I sybmit to my friend, because I love him and esteem him as one of the brightest young men in Georgia, I submit to him if it would not have been better to have used the serpent figure.

When you can ship from Mcriwether you know the value of a railroad. Why, sir, we know that this hall has been crowded with charters for railroad—my honorable friend most earneafty for a railroad—my honorable friend—the other day. He got up here and plead most earneafty for a railroad—my honorable friend—the other day. He got up here and told this house; asys he, "Gentemen, I will fove you just astony as I live if you will only force a railroad—through my county, [Applanue] Well, it shows the value of a railroad, It shows the value that every member, In his hear, puts on these railroads. We recognize their civilizing influences, developers of wealth—bringing mostl, bringing civilization and civilization and civilization abooks, bringing civilization and civilize and refinement, and all that makes life desirable. He recognizes it, and yet he is here today, practically, though not designedly, because he would not injure the people of Georgia, one hair's weight for his right arm—yet, he is here loday, practically, advocating a measure that, it my judgment, will absolutely crush the life out of every railroad in the state of tieorgia, pleading that it be consigned to death by stranguistion. If he advocates my friend's last substitute, pleading that it be consigned to death by electricity, absolutely crushing them out.

Mr. Cheirman, this railroad commission has power to regulate rates. It disarms monopoly; it disarms lessening competition; it makes it harmless; and with this railroad commission. I repeat with emphasis, there is not a community in the state of Georgia that can suffer, or has suffered for the last twelve mouths or two years, from unreasonable railroad charges. Not one. The time was, sentlemen, when we did suffer. The time was, gentlemen, when it was a crusher, but, thanks to the wisdom and patriotism of preceding legislatures for establishing this commission: that time has passed forever. Why, they say, you are for railroads, you have changed your opinion. No, sir. Four years ago I stood upon this floor and fought one of the most unequal fights of my life, assisted and backed and sustained by a number of intelligent and able and patriotic members of the house of representatives, and in the face of these railroads, in spite of money and power and influence and silk stockings and silk dresses, in spite of them all, we sustained by a number of intelligent and able and patriotic members of the house of them all, we sustained and perpetuated the railroads then: "This is all that was settled in behalf of the people, and I am, sir, in favor of abiding by that issue.

reasonable and just charges. It is all that the people demanded—reasonable and just charges." That was the issue. That was settled in behalf of the people, and I am, sir, in favor of abiding by that issue.

Mr. Speaker, let me have one more thought, sir. This is a wrecking measure. It means wreck; it means ruin, floancial ruin; it means destruction to our material prosperity and development. Take, sir, the Georgia raliroad; that old raliroad; the first in Georgia raliroad; that sie is than any other railroad in the south; take that old Georgia road, venerable benefactor of Georgia, where widows and orphans have invested their heritage, and the railroad upon which more dependent children are relying for the future than any other investment in the state; take that railroad upon which more dependent children are relying for the future than any other investment in the state; take that railroad. It has been leased to the Central railroad for a long ferm of years; ten per cent, upon its value guarrnteed. Very well. Fass this follive bill and in thiry days after you pass it the stock of that Georgia railroad, now worth two hundred dollars per share, or less. I believe you will shrink the value of that stock to fifty or seventy-five dollars per share, or less. I believe you will shrink the value of that stock to fifty or seventy-five dollars per share, and vote out millions of dollars by one fell swoop of legislative enactment. Is it just? Is it right? Is it equity? Is it religion? God help us out! Sir, do you remember that when you pass a law warring on property it is a two-edged aword that cuts in every direction. You farmers have lands. When you enter upon a war with railroad investments and railroad securities you are entering upon a course of law that will ulimately reach your homes, loved and prized as the sweetest spots of all the earth. Remember, gentlemen, on will simply lift the flood-gate; that is all. You will simply it the flood and God only can quell it, deliver the wrecker, the destroyer. Oh, sir, how th upon property, you have commenced war that will never end until it reaches your own treasures and happy homes.

Mr. Speaker, do you recall the fact that during the French revolution the cry was "Aristocrat," and that cry was simply a demand for the man's head. That was all, A man passing through the streets and some miserable wretch, some miserable creature from the very lowest place of Paris, cries out "Aristocrat" and in a few moments that man's head was doomed and he was being carried through the streets of Paris. But it did not end there. In a very few weeks the wretches that inaugurated the revolution, the very wretches that inaugurated the revolution, the very wretches that instruction. God help the people of Georgis, I pray you, Mr. Speaker and fellow members, simply pause and see where this thing leads, this war upon railroad property, where will it end. It will wreck your farmers; it will wreck your merchants: It will wreck your farmers; it will wreck your merchants: It will wreck your railroads will go into the hands of receivers. Your widows and orphans and investers will go to the poor house and ruin, and final destruction will be the final result. I honestly assert, and I believe it is the most fatal, the most dangerous will go to the poor house and ruin, and final destruction will be the final result. I honestly assert, and I assert it today, after investigation, I believe it is the most fatal, the most dangerous piece of legislation that was ever brought up in a legislature. I say it in the fear, of God, Mr. Speaker, Georgia never was as prosperous as she is today. Never were railroad freights so cheap and prosperity was never so general as it is now. The from interest is prosperous; the farmers are prosperous; prices are good; crop are good, the merchanis are prosperous and the arm of plenty seems to have been borne out upon this lovely and beautiful state of Georgia. It looks like a kind providence has absolutely gathered mp the treasures and the riches of his benefaction and poured them in rich profusion upon the people of this whole state. Right in the midst of this prosperity you say atop; right now you turn the hand back upon the dial of Georgia's growth and Georgia's wealth and of Georgia's power. God help you. God save the state. God guide the legislature and save us from this ruin.

MR. TUCK, OF CLARKE,
followed in an able speech favoring the bill.
The bill, he said, was planted squarely upon the constitution. The issue was squarely drawn—should the railroad monopoly or the law control.
He could not understand how members could oppose the bill so bitterly—to oppose the bill was to oppose the constitution. The effort to ridicule the measure could not draw attention from the great interests at steak.
Dr. Felton had pointed out that the farmers them-elves were combined and consolidated. The speaker alluded to this as a sophistry—there was no conflict between the constitution and the farmer.
He then discussed briefly the leading features of the last substitute offered, dwelling upon the fact that the objectionable forfeiture clause had been stricken out, and urging that the penalty prescribed was as light as it could be to be effective.

MR. SNELSON, OF MERIWETHER, spoke in favor of the bill. He drew a very remarkable parallel between the early opposition to the gospel of Christ and the present opposition to the gospel of Christ and the present opposition to the counterpart of the Savior.

MR. DERNER, OF MONROE, made the concluding speech in favor of the bill.

Mr. Patterson, of Bibb, had called for the previous question on the motion to indefinitely post-pone, but at Mr. Berner's own request the motion was waived until two more speeches could be made—Mr. Berner's was an eloquent one, and warmly received.

The speech, like all of Mr. Berner's, was an eloquent one, and warmly received.
He practically reviewed the whole argument in favor of the bill, speaking for more than two hours. Over 66,000 people, he said, were appealing for relief. Could there he nothing in such a prayer as this? Mr. Berner emphasized the idea that the Farmers' Alliance, at a number of meetings, had indorsed the bill.

The speaker reviewed at some length the constitutional arguments for and against the bill. The gontleman from Richmond (Mr. Lamar) had neglected to state, that in the Collins case—the inspiration of the court had decided that only a stockholder could enter proceedings against unlawful combinations. This, he contended, was the material point at issue. The stockholder would never object to a consolidation, the object of which would be to increase his dividend. Not even the state could interfere unless it was a stockholder the the forfeiture clause was the material point as issue. The stockholder would never object to a consolidation, the object of which would be to increase his dividend. It was stated in yesterday's Constitution that the three gentlemen named had stated their intention of resigning from the committee, but at the earnes solicitation of friends had postponed decision until After reciting the resolution under which the committee was appointed, the resigning delegation review their action in committee, giving a resolution passed laying down specifically what they proposed to do.

The original resolution and the resolution passed in the committee have already been printed in The Cohertration.

The original resolution and the resolution passed in the committee have already been printed in The Constitution.

Then the three gentlemen proceed:

There is no division in the committee as to the powers which they possess. It is not now, and never has been, contended that they possessed any greater power than the mere arriving at certain facts and reporting them to the house. The only point of difference is as to the manner of procedure. The majority never have, and do not now contend, that they have any of the powers of a judicial ribunnal to swear witnesses, to hear argument or to pass upon the matter, and render a judgment and report the same to the house and ask their affirmance thereof. They do contend that they were charged with something more than the mere ministerial act of receiving a letter from the lessees and bearing said letter to the house. It was said when the question was up that it was one of great importance. When the conference resolutions were passed it was again said that the two presiding officers should exercise great judgment and discretion in the appointment. Surely this was not and could not be true if all that was to be done was this and this only. A page ground have "performed this duty just as well."

The gentlemen then show that under their construction of the resolution, conference might have resulted in a complete adjustment, the house being enabled to know the whole case. in this direction. They regret that no possible action of theirs could bind, or appear to bind, the house.

The communication proceeds:

"It will be observed that beyond the written statement, the only privilege conceded to the lessess was to appear before the committee and make an oral statement in vindication of, or in explanation of, their claims. It was intended that every word said, every expression used, should be taken down and returned with the written statement of the claim to the two houses. It was only done as a courtesy to the distinguished United States senator whose feebleness necessitated all the courtesy which could be extended. Nor was exceeding six hours to be devoted to this purpose, and that to be done at night time, as it did not interfere with the business of the two houses. This is the head and front of our offending with reference to any privileges extended to them, and we thought as they had been faithful tenauts this slight courtesy should be extended. Every one of us are unqualifiedly opposed to betterments, and, therefore, thought we could at least show them this slight favor, and thus emphasize our wish to clear up this question, if possible. We return our thanks to an able and impartial speaker, who so well discharges his duty. And, in no spirit of ill will and with no wish to reflect upon the other members of the committee, and with the highest regard for the wisdom of the house, and only on account of the belief that we can no longer contribute to a solution, but pledging ourselves to adopt any other line equally beneficial to the people which may be suggested by the committee, respectfully request to be relieved from further service.

Macon, October 10.—[Special.]—This morning shortly before five o'clock, the large coal bin of the Macon gas works was discovered to be on fire. The fire department responded promptly and saved much valuable property from destruction. The firemen prevented the coal from catching. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The roof and inside casing were destroyed. The loss amounted to eight hundred dollars, uninsured.

THE CENTRAL CITY.

The los amounted to eight hundred dollars, uningued.

DECLARED TO BE UNSAFE.

The Dempsey store, on Cherry street, occupied to Rocers & Adams's candy tactory, was inspected today and declared unsafe as regards fire, owing to a defective flue, which will have to be remedied. The flue was originally built for light fires like in grains, and not intended for the very strong heat of reandy furnace. This defective flue caused the igniting of the store a few weeks ago, and the fire was stringuished with a loss of six or seven thousand collars. Last night the store caught from the flue and entailed a loss of about three days, and have been on fire for two or three days, and have been on fire for two or three days, and have been steadily burning.

THOWN OUT OF A WAGON.

M. Charlie Howard, a prosparous farmer of Blbb county, and a brother of Mrs. Woolfolk, who was murdered by Tom Woolfolk, and who is the prosecutor in the great case, happened to a very serious accident on Tuesday evening at his home near Macon. He was thrown out of a runwary wagon, and, inling heavily on the ground, broke the small joint of the feit arm, sprained his wrist and badly bruisefirst think that the arm bone was broken and simply bandaged it, but yesterday the pain was somenies the local doctor told Mr. Howard to come to Macon and consult medical advice. Dr. Howard Williams today pulled the broken arm into position, which caused Mr. Howard great pain. But for the operation today, the break would have been long in bealing, and the arm would have grown crooked. Today Undertakers Wood & Bond sent a casket to Cheaneey for the remains of J. S. Meriwether, who died last night. On Truesday evening Meriwether was mashed while coupling East Tennessee ars, and lingered until last evening.

wether was mashed white coupling has reintessee cars, and lingered until last evening.

of Macon's wonderful new road, the Georgia, Southern and Frorida, for the month of September were thirty-five thousand dollars. Judging by the heavy business done this mouth, so far, the earnings will amount to forty thousand dollars.

The injury received by 1r. T. R. Kendall, pastor of Mulberry Street Method at church, while trying to mount his horse, is not as serious as was at any feared, and while very painful and will necessarily keep him in doors some time, an permanent disability of any kind is faered. This will be very grad tidings to the hosts of friends of Dr. Kendall throughout the state. He has been the recipient of much kindness and attention since the accident.

Postmaster Hardeman has received notification that on Saturday next Civil Service Examiner George E. Hoyt, of Malue, will be in Macon to conduct an examination of applicants for government positions. There are about fifty applicants at present at this point, but whether all will report on the day of examination remains to be seen.

day of examination remains to be seen.

THE ELECTRIC RAILWAY.

It seems that the construction of the Macon Electric railway will commence at a near date. The new eighty-shorse power engine has arrived from the north and has been put in postition, and it is expected that the new one hundred horse power boller will be finished by Friday evening, and that will immediately be put into posifion. The Thompson-Houston people will no doubt begin at an early day to put up poles and string wires, and will operate with such a large force that the work will be accomplished in a very few days.

a large force that the work will be accomplished in a very five days.

THE RAILROAD AND THOMASTON.

THE CONSTITUTION last week contained full proceedings of a meeting held by the Macon board of trade to consider a petition from the people of Thomaston, Upson county, for the board to try and persuade the projectors of the Macon and Birmingham read to run the line to Thomaston. The board appointed a committee to confer with the Macon and Birmingham people on the subject, but as yet no meeting has be n held. A telegram was received in Macon today which stated that clitzens from Thomaston were in Adanta to present the matter to the legislature with a view of that body requiring the road to run to Thomas on, and that the Greenville fight is liable to by re-enacted. The proposed line of the Macon and Birmingham road will run within two and a half miles of Thomaston. The Macon and Birmingham people have beautiff and the Poster's clearly water water.

proposed line of the Macon and Birmingham road will ron within two and a half miles of Thomaston. The Macon and Birmingham people have bough: at this point the Rogers' elegant water power and fifteen hundred acres contiguous, and the Thomaston people fear that the Macon and Birminghem folks will erect a large cotton factory at Bogers and thus found the nucleus for a new town that will draw trade from Thomaston to the hurt and injury of this place. The truth of the matter is that Cnief Encineer Henry Wells, of the Macon and Birmingham, which is recognized as one of the finest engineers in the south, was instructed to survey the straightest and best route from Macon to Birmingham, without respect to any of the neighboring towns and villages. He has, therefore, selected the most practicable route, and in doing so he has followed the valleys and creeks, thereby avoiding steep hills and rough ways. Months before he started on the survey, Engineer Wells sont an expert assistant fitrough the country to make a topographical map of each county through which it was to proposed to run the road. Engineer Wells studied this map closely and was thus enabled to make the best and straightest practicable route. He found that it would be highly impracticable to run the road to Thomaston. To do so will entail a very heavy and nunceessary expense. unnecessary expense, a cost far in excess of the benefit it will reap from Thomaston, if the road is cod to that point.

CARNESVILLE, Ga., October 10. -[Special.]-Deputy United States Marshal McDonald was dismissed today upon a charge of bastardy. The case for rape was dismissed by the prosecution. His vindication was almost perfect before our people. There will be a large damage case before the county ordinary tomorrow.

Danger to the Griffin Mills.

Griffin, Ga., October 10.—[Special.]—The constant sounding of the gong at the Griffin Manufacturing company's mill, at an earlier hour than usual tonight, was a signal that something was wrong in that vicinity. A bright blaze confirmed their suspicions, though it was not the mills on fire. If proved to be the waste house, in which was stored a quantity of waste. This, with the loss of the house, will make a loss of about $300. It was hard work to save the houses of the operatives, as they were closely situated to the burning building. But for the efficiency of the fire service of the mill it would have been impossible to save them. It is supposed that the fire originated from spontaneous combustion, Danger to the Griffin Mills.

A New Enterprise.

COLUMBUS, Ga., October 10.—[Special.]—
"The Emerson Laundry Machinery Co., of Charleston, S. C., have just finished setting up a large plant of their improved laundry machinery for the Acme Steam Laundry company, Columbus, Ga. The Acme company is composed of the most brilliant young business men of that city, they have a strong financial backing, have purchased the best line of machinery made and will doubtless make a great success of their new enterprise."

Deaths in Georgia. Deaths in Georgia.

Americus, Ga., October 10.—[Special.]— Americus and Sumter county each sustained a loss yesterday in the death of two of our oldest and best known citizens, A. A. Adams and W. T. Toole. Both had been ill for many months, and death came as a relief to their suffering. No more gallant soldier wore the grey than Colonel Toole, and the friends of each throughout the state will bear with regret the announcement of their death.

Want to Attend the Exposition.

JEFFERSON, Ga., October 10.—[Special.]—The students of the Martin institute will petition the board of trustees for a holiday and attend the exposition in a body, and for a fine body of pupils Jefferson can enter for the prize. They will be with you next week. The trustees are such friends of the exposition that there will be no trouble in their getting the holiday.

The mace takes effect at once, except in case of contemporary of this date. TAKEN FROM THE TRAIN and Put to Death by a Posse of Enrag WAYCROSS, Ga., October 10 .- [Special.]-A private telegram was received here this evening from Jesup, stating that Bill Moore, a negro train hand on the Savannah, Florida and Western road, was killed by a posse of citizens there early this morning. The particular ulars given to your correspondent are as fol-lows: Moore has been running as train hand on train No. 73 and 74 from Savannah to Way-

While at Jesup yesterday, he had some words with a citizen there, and as the train pulled out he rocked and hit an unconcerned party that was standing near by. On return-ing on his regular run, leaving here at four o'clock, a posse waited for his arrival and, tak-ing him off the train, made short work of him. Moore is well known here by the traveling public, as he was formerly a porter at the Com-mercial hotel, of this city. He always bore a good reputation. His remains will be sent here.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Do you suppose it would be possible, with a sufficient number of men, to build a fine Reed Organ all compite in seven hours? No doubt it would, but it would certainly require a large force of skilled men to do it. Now, if the Estey Organ company had taken so long a time as seven hours they would have had to begun before Columbus discovered America in order to complete 200,000 organs in 1888. They have actually been building their famous Reed Organs forty years, averaging about one organ in thirty-five minutes. And not building them only They have sold them. No other organ can show such sales. What does it prove? Simply that the ESTEY Organ is the favorite, that it is the best value for the money invested, that it has been the choice with the majority of persons who have purchased organs. You can't make any mistake up choosing an RS TEY, for the great majority is with you. Go to the ESTEY Organ Co.'s ware-rooms, corner Marietta and Broad streets, Atlanta, Ga., and you can be suited in price and terms. sept 18—tf

A Cigarette Lunatic.

That young man with the boozy look is not under the influence of liquor. He is simply a cigarette smoker.

Do you wonder why Mr. Whatshisname suddenly collapsed the other day and was sent to the asylum? Cigarettes again. Lucky is the cigarette smoker who does nothing worse than gently booze through life, or simmer down into mild idiocy. There are more dangerous forms of the dis-

A few days ago Charley Orris killed his mother in her sleep, at Buffalo, N. Y., and then killed himself. Orris was a good young man. He did not drink. Cigarette smoking was his only vice. He used cigarettes until he lost his mental balance.

One night the young fellow walked into his mother's room and put a bullet through her head, then he sat down and wrote out his confession. After this he cut his throat from ear to ear. When this was done he sat down in a chair and smoked a cigarette while his life blood was oozing out.

This case is only one of the many. But the cigarette victim will smile and say that If he uses a certain brand he is safe. He will be careful and moderate. You can no more reason with one of those unfortunates than you can with a dipsomaniac.

Chicago and the Devil. Is there a personal devil!

This is the question of the hour in Chicago. As a live topic of discussion it threatens to overshadow the world's fair. The controversy rages in the pulpit, in the school room and in the newspapers. It is handled in every possible way, seriously and flippantly.

As a matter of course the orthodox preachers are doing their best to keep the Chicagoans straight. Only last-Sunday Dr. Withrow declared the devil to be a living being, and the cause of all sin and human misery. He said: "We hold to this theory. Why? First, because it is just as easy to believe in one supreme evil spirit as in any evil spirit whatever. Secondly, because the theory is practically original with Jesus Christ, and he is responsible for it. Nothing could be more explicit than Christ's teaching in this matter. Thirdly, because Christ discriminated between evils, assigning some to the devil as the cause of causes; others elsewhere. Fourthly, because Christ knew about spiritual things as no modern philosopher or physicist dares to say he knows. These are this: If you believe in the Bible you must believe in a living devil, who is always striving to bring de struction to the human race. He is not a repulsive malignant mind, ever alert, ever tempting, always be resisted. Our faith is grounded upon the ances were divine, and we must accept them all.

We cannot reject a doctrine here and assign a new meaning there at our own sweet will. The devil exists; and next Sunday night I shall tell you of At the very hour when Dr. Withrow was vigorously engaged in proving the existence of a personal devil Dr. Thomas, in another quarter of the city, was telling his congregation that the whole business was a mere superstition, that it originated with the pagans, and obtained such a strong foothold that to this day every Christian believes that his own evil thoughts and deeds come from the devil, whereas they come from the man himself. The speaker did not hesitate to say that the scriptural passages implying the existence of a personal devil had been tampered with by some of the earlier theologians who were eply imbued with pagan superstitions. The Chicago News gives the following summary of the conclusion of his sermon;

odox preachers believe in a devil irrenably malignant today, if we are to believe what most of them say. Some, however, are in-clined to question the existence of a personal devil. But they had better mind what they are doing; one question leads, to another. If they question the the orthodox teaching about the fall of

The devil is an imaginary person which it is convenient for cowardly man to make use of as an ex-cuse for man's own evil. Many human sins are

"Thereupon Dr. Thomas came out strongly, and, after a vigorous denunciation of the orthodox teaching that Christ suffered for our sins, that is, that he was punished in our place, he vehemently declared that every man must suffer for his own ains, and there is no other salvation except that which leads a man to abandon his evil ways and follow the good. Evil is an incident in the evolution of the good. There are as many origins of evil as there are of persons who have done wrong-Each one will be punished or rewarded according to his deeds. And these clouds of superstition m be cleared from the mental sky of humanity, so, that the firmament of each mind may be filled with stars of truth. And then the truth of justice, liberty, brotherhood, and the hope of a perfect uni-erse will make you free."

The publication of these two sermons side in the daily papers must have bewildered the Chicagoans not a little. Many of them are induced to agree with Dr. Thomas that every man is his own devil, but the majority are firmly convinced that somewhere in the universe there is a big devil, a living person, who is at their heels and in a fair way to overtake them. It is not likely that this little flurry will settle anything, but the sensation it has caused in a great city of notoriously low standing in the scale of religion and morals will attract attention, as one of the queer emotional developments of this day and gen-

What Destroyed Slavery?

As the year falls into the sere and vellow leaf the various editors—especially the Boston editors-are prone to fall into a reflective mood. The glamor of Indian summer and the changing season overcomes them, and they drift into discussions that leave a queer taste in the mouth.

Here, for instance, is the editor of the Boston Herald, who, tired of the tattle and gabble of every-day politics, turns to his private secretary and makes the startling inquiry, "What Destroyed Slavery." reupon, he proceeds to answer his own question, and he manages, by raking up vell known facts, to make the matter very interesting. In truth, it is a very interesting question. The negroes think that Lin-coln and Grant freed them; but Lincoln was for preserving the union, slavery or no slavery. He was willing to tolerate slavery if, by that means, the union could be saved; he was willing to abolish it if the alternative was necessary. As for Grant, it is well known that what little politics he had up to the time of his nomination for president, were democratic. He was a democrat as far as he took an interest in politics, and voted for the democratic candidates. He was a republican after the war, not because he eared anything about the negro, but because the re publican party seemed to him to be the party of the union.

As our Boston contemporary points out, the negroes know little or nothing of the real abolitionists. They flouted Greeley, their most ardent and untiring friend, when he was a candidate for president, although they owed more to him than to any man, so far as their emancipation was concerned. They know nothing of Garrison, or of Beecher, or of Wendell Phillips, or of Charles Sumner, though all of these were conspicuous in bringing about the freedom of the negro.

When Mr. Lincoln penned his emancipation proclamation, he knew that it would act stand the test of the courts. He issued it as a war measure solely-a matter of policy-and it affected only those negroes who were under the jurisdiction of the federal government.

As a matter of fact, the negroes were no free until their old masters met in the state conventions and declared them to be so. THE Piedmont covers all Georgia and a large part of the rest of the union. THE commercial travelers made a brave show yesterday, as they always do. They are entitled to the best there is in the shop, and they get it. THE democrats have scored a victory in Indianapolis- the town that gave Mr. Harri son and Lije Halford to the government. This such a way as to create the impression that there was delay on my part in carrying into effect the law under which the road is now leased.

For the truth of history I desire to say that such an impression is without foundation in fact.

There was no delay in the executive department. The lease was perfected, and the property turned over at the earliest possible moment provided by the law. The filing of a bid by the parties able to command the security required by the law was delayed until the last moment, because of disagreement among themselves as to the proportions each should have. For this the executive was in no wise responsible.

There were three parties whom public rumor credited with an intention to file bids. These were the Brown-Cole-King party with the Georgia railroad behind them. The Hill-Delano-Johnson party, with the Centrai railroad behind them, and the Blodgett-Seago-Dobbins party, without any railroad behind them. So far as I took any part at all in the preliminaries, it was to encourage separate bidding to secure the highest figure for the state. The fact that the parties headed by Governor Brown and Mr. Hill, controlling all the available security contemplated by the law finally came to terms among themselves, and at the last moment submitted a bid at the minimum figure, cannot be fairly charged as the fault of the executive officer representing the state.

Whatever conversation Mr. Hill may have had with me (and I have no recollection of that quoted by your correspondent) must have been before he united with Governor Brown in submitting a bid, because there was modelay in awarding the lease after the time named in the law for closing the bids.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH CONVENTION.

Three Meetings Were Held Yesterday—The Business Transacted. The Hunter Street Christian church was charmingly decorated yesterday in honor of the state convention of the churches of Christ, which is in progress there. Chaplets of bright colored flow ers were festooned over the doors and big bunches were placed in vases on the reading desk and platform. A large motto was stretched across the room bidding the visitors welcome.

Three meetings were held during the day, all of which were well attended and harmonious. At which were well attended and harmonious. At the eleven o'clock meeting impressive services were held, after which Rev. T. H. Blevins, of Savannah, preached an excellent sermon.

During the afternoon a meeting of the board of missions was held, at which T. M. Foster, chairman; R. M. Mitchell, vice-chairman; W. S. Bull, W. Y. Elder and S. H. Broadnax were present. The meeting adjourned after appointing J. A. Perdue, financial agant, and Mr. H. Dotton was requested to address the meeting. He delivered an able argument in favor of Sunday-schools, and besought his hearers to redomble their efforts in this direct on and leave no means untried jof fitting the young generation to meet the temptations of the world.

At the evening session Mr. C. S. Blackwell, who recently removed from Chicago to Augusta, delivered a fine sermon. The meeting will continue today.

AT THE THEATER.

A glowing tribute was paid a charming little woman last night---a tribute of tears. Effe Ellsler was the actress and the tears were called Eilsier was the actress and the tears were called forth by her strong acting in the emotional scenes in her new play "The Governest." A good audisence greeted her upon her first appearance in Atlanta this season and everybody was delighted with the play and the company.

Effic Eilsier is a strong actress, clearly the leader in her particular line. The story of the good but misunderstood woman stirs our very soul with sympathy, but we all like to see that story presented on the stage, with the understanding, of course, that all will be happy in the oud. It is in the portrayal of these women that Effic Eilsier has won the hearts of the people and it is in plays like "The Governess" that they love to see her.

The supporting company is, on the whole, a strong one. Effic Eilsier has the supporting company is, on the whole, a strong one.

and it is in plays like "The Governess" that they love to see her.

The supporting company is, on the whole, a strong one. Effic Elisler's father, John A. Elisler, for years a leading manager and also one of the best known, takes the small character part of a tramp and does it excellently. Mr. Weston was strong as Jarvis Coulter, and was warmly received. Mr. Robert Edeson, a young man who gives promise of a brilliant future, made a decided hit in the comedy role of Jimmy Needles, and by his clever acting, established himself as a great favorite. Miss Buttler, as Helen Talbot, was an excellent foil; she is clever and was a favorite. Mr. Johnson, Mr. Sprague and Miss LaVerne also deserve mention. Of course little Gracie Sherwood, the child of the play, was a great favorite.

Tonight the same company appears in "Merze,"

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

RECEPTIONS, WEDDINGS AND THE-

The Marriage of Miss Hunnicutt to Drake-Comptroller Goldsmith Weds Mrs. Pinson.

A brilliant and beautiful wedding was the of Mr. William Warren Drake and Pink Hunnicutt, which occurred at the First Methodist church at 8 o'clock last evening. Long before the appointed hour the church was filled with a brilliant throng hour the church was filled with a brilliant throng of friends sagerly awaiting the arrival of the bridal party. The attar was artistically adorned with palms and many other tropical plants, and the bidal party entered the church to the strains of the Mendelssohn march, played with masterly skill and expression by Mr. O'Donnelly.

The ushers, Messrs. Will Green, Robert Freeman, Ben Hill Thompson and Frank Meador came first and the others entered the church in the following order.

rder: Miss Ida Hightower and Miss Sallie Hunnicutt. Mr. Joseph Eddleman and Mr. Charles Winship Miss Annie Bass and Miss Clara Sanders. Miss Claudia Lewis, of Montgomery, and Mis

Mary Cook.
Mr. Frank Block and Mr. Frank Meador.
Miss Eddle Hunnicutt and Miss Jim Wylle.
Mr. Tom Peoples and Mr. Harry Snook.

Then came the bride with her maid of honor, Mrs. J. Edgar Hunnicutt, They were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. J. Edgar Hunnicutt, at the altar and there Dr. Morrison performed the beautiful wedding ceremony with impressive ele

A more beautiful and modest bride never stood before the altar to plight her troth than this one, in her long bridal robe of heavy white silk with its rich draperies adorned with duchesse lace, and the rich draperies adorned with duchesse lace, and the same about the throat, sleeves and V-cut neck. Mrs. J. Edgar Hunnicutt was lovely in her bridal gown of white silk and lace. The bridesmaids, who were among the most beautiful young ladies in Atlants, all looked enchantingly preity in artistic gowns of pale blue crepe de chine, trimmed with silver, with silver slippers and silver beads, the latter gifts from the bride.

The wedding party attended an elegant reception after the ceremony, at the hand-some home of Mr.

after the ceremony, at the hand-ome home of Mi

C. W. Hunicut, on Park piace.

There Mr. and Mrs. Drake stood to receive the congratulations of their friends in front of a bank of palms in the long reception room. The hallway was beautifully adorned with flowers and foliage, the stairway being hung with gray moss, agains whose feathery draperies there shone the ruby and gold of many roses. The fire places were concealed by foliage, and the mauties were covered with ferns and roses. The wedding supper table shows a feast truly royal most daintily spread. The cen ter piece was a large mirror, in which a bank o La France roses reflected their beauty.
The table was illuminated with pink wax tapers in cut glass candelabras, and bowls and epergnes of tropical fruits formed the other ornaments.

The happy pair left at eleven o'clock for a wedding journey to New York, followed by the heart-felt congratulations of countless friends. Many elegant presents were received. No two young people were ever more popular in Atlanta society than Mr. and Mrs. Drake.

Miss Piuk Hunnicutt, since her debut, has been one of Atlanta's acknowledged belies and beauties; but it is especially through the loveliness of her home life and the true womanly grace and purity of her character that she has won the admiration and loyal love of all her friends. For a father to give such a daughter into the keeping of ar other is a great sacrifice, and one that is an assurance to ber husband of a worthy confidence. Mr. Will Drake deserves the prize he has won. He is a young business man who has won esteem and success from all who know him in the commercial world, while his personal friends and admirers are legion.

The reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Arthur Locke in honor of Miss Locke's debut could not have been surpassed in elegance, artistic decoration and grace in catertaining. Mrs. Locke's home, on Linden avenue, had all its apartments darkened and brilliantly illuminated with wax tapers and gas jets. The prevailing decorations were of golden rod and sheaves of rice, the latter in honor of the native state of the hostess—South Carotina.
The parlors were adorned with golden rod and American beauty roses, the mantels being banked with red roses against a background of golden rod Willow baskets filled with crimson blossoms hung against the curtains.

The library was decked in scarlet salvias and au tumn grasses, and the diningroom's flowers were yellow, the mantel and fireplace being banked with goldon rod. One of the novel and lovely adorn-ments of the table was freshly harvested rice, which formed a fringe around the cloth. Above was a border of golden rol and roses. The center-piece was a large sheaf of rice encircled by yellow ruits, while above a ball of golden roses sprang from the chandeliers.

At the end of the inclosed and vine-hung gallery was a pretty table at which Miss Josie Inman, Miss O'Hear and Miss Annie May Hall served coffee and chocolate.

Wurm's officestra happen the whole evening.

Mrs. Arthur Locke wore a magnificent gown of black velvet en train, diamond ornaments.

Miss Locke was exceedingly pretty in an artistic empire gown of white and gold striped gauze, the booster waven in white satin stripes; the deep belt

THEY WALK OUT.

The Night Force of the Central Railroad Yards Demand Higher Wages Central railroad and Atlanta and West Point railway vardmen went out on a strike yester day.

Twenty-eight men are on the walkout. twenty-eight men are on the waikout.

The strike became known te the officials of the two systems about dark and caused a general stagnation in the yards for several hours, and at one time it looked like there would be a collision between the railroad employes and the officials of the road.

So probable did the trouble appear that police authorities were called upon to protect the road. About nine o'clock Chief Connolly was notified by Mr. Robert Schmidt, agent of the Central railroad and Atlanta and West Point railroad that there was A LARGE CROWD ASSEMBLED in the yards and that there was likely to be trouble. Patrolman Lackey was sent to the scene, and when he arrived he found a crowd of some saventy five men, employes of the yards. But everything was quiet and orderly. Mr. Schmidt quietly informed the policeman that the men congregated about the crossing had been in the service of the two roads and that they had gone out on a strike.

They wanted an increase in pay. The officer was then informed that the strikers were upon the property of the roads and was requested to disperse them. Lackey' went into the crowd and informed the men that they were tresspassing and requested them to leave. The strikers were quiet and orderly and patiently and respectfully listened to the patrolman's talk.

fully listened to the patrolman's talk.

THEY LEAVE THE YARD.

Then they went away in an orderly way.

W. R. Fridell, one of the yard conductors, appears to have been a leader in the walk out. He, with Conductors Daley, Walles, C. O. Hilley and Johnson. Night Yardmasiers Johnson and twenty-two couplers were in the strike and when asked about the trouble Conductor Fridell said:

"On September 26, the Atlanta branch of the Brotherhood of Brakemen met and decided that the schedule of wages should be raised. We notified Mr. Hagle that we desired an advance from $45 amonth paid to the chief coupler and his two assistants, to $50 for the chief coupler and $45 for the others. We also asked for an increase from $60 amonth for the yard conductors to $70."

"What did Mr. Hagle say?" he was asked.
"He told us that ne would see Mr. Gabbett and give us an answer in a few days. He was as good as his word and on Wednesday we saw him, after we had given him twelve days notice, and he said that he was unable to do anything for us. He informed us that he had conferred with Mr. Gabbett, and was satisfied that all that we could hope for would be $65 amonth for the conductors."

"Not at all, and at six o'clock this evening we went on a strike. We have conducted the matter quietly and orderly all the way through, and only ask that we be granted our rights. We do not intend anything unlawful or in anyway conflicting with the Law,

but we do intend to stand up for our rights."

"Does the strike include the entire night force?"

"No, not all of them. There are two conductors, C. W. Smith and R. J. Woodruff, who are still at work, and Assistant Night Yardmaster Banks. They are scabs. They promised to stand by us, but did not do so, and Banks is now helping to get the trains out." MR. SCHMIDT TALKS.

Mr. Robert Schmidt, agent of the roads, whe

Air. Robert Schmidt, agent of the roads, when questioned, said:
"I went to the men and talked to them. I told them that they would do the road, as well as them-selves, a serious injury, to strike just at this time. I told them that I had treated them as a father and had many a time allowed them time when they were sick. They paid no attention to me, although they knew that we were in need of all the help that we had to manage the yards during the exposition."

although they knew that we were in need of alt the help that we had to manage the yards during the exposition."

"What did they ask?"

"As I understand, they wanted an increase from forty-five dollars a month for each of the three couplers to fifty dollars for the chief coupler. They wanted an increase of from sixty dollars a month to seventy dollars for the conductors. I think that since the Atlanta and West Point has come in with my there has been a sort of grudge existing; and I believe that is the cause of the strike, as much as anything else."

"Are you blocked by the strike?"

"No. Thanks to Mr. Thurman, the day watchman, and Mr. Bauks, we have been able to get our trains out so far, but we took the precaution to warn other roads to make their connections so as not to throw any cars on us that were not necessarily transferred over our lines. The West Point trains are somewhat delayed, but we have been able to manage everything satisfactorily during the erening.

HELP IS COMING.

Dispatches were received last night stating that the special train, containing Mr. Hage and Mr. Norman, assistant roadmaster, had left Savannah at 7:05, and they will arrive in Atlanta this morning at 7 o'clock.

A rumor was current at midnight that a force from the yards in Macon had started to Atlanta on a special at 9 o'clock, to take the place of the strikers, but Mr. Schmidt knew nothing of it.

The 2:00 train, which usually carries nine loaded cars, left with three fists and the caboose.

The Fireworks Last Night.

About twelve thousand people witnessed the fireworks display at the exposition last night. Every one seemed highly pleased and many of the pieces were loudly applauded.

An interesting spectator was Mr. Pain, of London. He watched every piece carefully, and when it was over remarked in a quiet business-like way: "I'll beat that two to one a week from tonight."

Two car loads of material for Mr. Pain's firework display next Thursday night came in yesterday, and a force of fifteen men will be put to work at once arranging it. One of his assistants last night said: "Our display next Thursday night is going to be the grandest ever given in America."

A party of about a dozen gentlemen from Eatonton, representing the fair a-sociation, were at the exposition yesterday as the guests of the company. They were brought up from Eatonton in a special car by Mr. G. V. Gress and Mr. W. A. Gregg. The party consisted of Judge J. S. Turner, Messrs. All Davis, W. H. Weaver, J. T. Dennis, W. G. Little, R. D. White, K. D. Little, W. B. Wingfield, J. D. Weaver, B. W. Hunt, F. Leverett, C. D. Leonard, M. J. Brown, J. W. Rainey and J. C. Reid. Everyone of them was delighted with the exposition. Mr. B. W. Hunt, who has just returned from the Paris exposition said: "I have enjoyed your show here more than I did the Paris exposition. It is almost perfect in every detail and the amusement features are spleudid." Guests of the Exposition.

Mr. Frank Leverett said: "It is far superior to your show of two years age. The Wild West, the races, and parachute leap from the balloon are splendid. Our party is delighted with every feature, and when we return we shall send all our people here."

Mr. J. T. Dennis said: "It's a splendid show. The Wild West and the educated seals alone will repay anyone for coming here."

Captain A. S. Reid, said: "It is the best exposition Georgia has ever had. The stock show and the track horses are the very best."

Dr. J. D. Weaver: "Our crowd have been well pleased; in fact, delighted. The show is a great one."

It was a field day for Atlanta horses, though they didn't have a walk over by any means. Awards were made to Measrs. Brady & Miller for the best pair of matched goldings, and to Mr. Clarence Knowles for the best pair of matched mares. These teams are both beauties, and the awards were made over a large number of others.

THE SENATORS SECEDE FROM THE

The senate committee made a new departure in the betterments question yesterday.

After a conference Senator Lyle introduced a resolution to withdraw the senate contingent from the conference committee and let them go it alone. The resolution was as follows:

The resolution was as follows:

manner provace meaning and report the same to the resolutions aforesaid, and report the same to the resolutions aforesaid, and report and will come up today. There is no doubt that it will be adopted. The senate representatives are hot.

"It they want to make porters of the committee to any today, they can get some other material," and senator Whitfield, the chairman. All the committee per Senator Barlett seem to be of the same mind. He is not opposed to sending out an indecommittee, but is opposed to sending out an indecommittee, but is opposed to sending out an independent committee to confer with the lessees. Members of the committee say their work would have been completed in two days and the report returned Saturday if the house had not interfered. The senate has the lease bill in its hands, and will so it alone in the house had not interfered. Senator Lyle, who is very indignant at the action of the house, will take the floor in support of his resolution when it comes up today, and it is said that he will shell the woods. He is said to be loaded for bear and a not time is expected.

The senate took up bills adversely reported and recommitted seeded out a number of the sheets.

Among those recommitted was the bill by Mr. Juhan to prevent the spread of hog cholera, Mr. Barlett's bill to give the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia rathroad a right of way through the property of the Western and Atlantic rathroad in Dakon, and Senator Rice's bill to prevent the spread of gianders by the destruction of affected animals.

Senator Allgood's bill to provide a penalty for ploughing over graves in country cemeteries, came up with an adverse report and Senator Allgood moved to disagree. Senator Hall, chairman of the general judiciary committee, said that the bill would not improve existing laws which already covered the case.

would not improve existing laws when thready covered the case.

The report was agreed to and the bill was lost.

Senator Rice's bill to prevent the spread of glanders by destroying animals so affected came up with the adverse report of the committee on agriculture.

Senator Bartlett moved to recommit the bill to the general judiciary committee. He thought Is was an important matter, and should receive over attention.

the general judiciary that the product of the same important matter, and should receive in was an important matter, and should receive in wasternion. Senator Rice said he had introduced the bill on the recommendation of the governor. He did not know that the details were perfect. He introduced it for the benefit of the larmers, and if they did not want it, he was disposed to let it drop, but now he took a different view: it affected the cities, and he wasted it recommitted.

took a different view: It affected the cities, and he wanted it recommitted.
Senator Mussengale said a deputation from Greene had asked him to introduce a similar bill, and when they heard of this asked him to support it. He thought glanders had prevailed in Greene, and he asked the recommitment of the bill.

Mr. Ballard, chairman of the committee on agriculture, said the reports of glanders when investigated by a veterinary surgeon had proved to be unfounded. He thought that the indiscriminate condemnation and destruction of animals supposed to ne affected with glanders would work great hardship and injustice to the owners of stock. Therefore, the committee on agriculture reported the bill adversely.

Senator Hall asked who was to condemn the animals supposed to be affected.

"The board of health," said Senator Ballard, "And there is no board of health, is there?" said Senator Hall.

Mr. Bartlett moved its recommitment to the committee on the Western and Atlantic railroad. There was some objection to this, and he withdrew that motion and moved that it be recommitted to the motion and moved that it be recommitted to the committee on railroads. Senator Rice hoped the bill would be recommitted, as Senator Bartlett had had no opportunity to be heard before the committee.

Mr. Trammell called for the ayes and nays, and the motion was carried,

There will be another resolution for the senate to consider.

The communication in The Constitution of yesterday, complaining that the Western and Atlantic railroad lease bill was unreasonably delayed in the senate has stirred up some members of the chamber.

Senator Trammell will introduce this morning a senator trammell will introduce this morning a resolution requesting the committee on the Western and Atlantic railroad to report the lease bill back to the senate so it can be made the special order on or before the 15 of October. He says his resolution means no reflection on the committee, but as there has been so much talk about delay he wishes to bring up the matter so the Western and Atlantic committee can show why time was needed.

Governor Gordon Grants a Full Pardon to a Glynn County Convict.

Governor Gordon yesterday pardoned Horace Governor Gordon yesterday pardoned Horace Caden out of the penitentiary. He was sentenced at the May term of the superior court of Glynn county in 1884, to serve six years for burglary. In the petition which induced Governor Gordon to sign the pardon, it was stated that Caden had been convicted chiefly on the evidence of two men who were disreputable and unworthy of belief. Many people of Glynn county have become convinced that Caden was wrongly convicted, and the solicitor general of the circuit also asked his release.

The Chautauqua Literary Social Circles Convene in the Y. M. C. A. Parlors. A meeting of the various C. L. S. C. circles of the city was held Wednesday night in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., for the purpose of forming a league. There were present eighteen persons, who represented four circles. As all of the circles had represented four circles. As all of the circles had not been notified of the meeting, only a temporary organization was effected, with Dr. William A. Love as temporary president, and W. G. Johnson as temporary secretary, Committees were appointed to visit the different circles and get their ideas of the work Yesterday was the anniversary of the birthday of Dr. E. H. Gillet, who is prominent in Chautsuqua work in the south, and this meeting was called in his honor. There are something over one hundred members of the Chautsuqua reading course in Atlanta, and their numbers are steadily growing.

Money Not Yet Due. A blind confederate veteran felt his way A blind confederate veteran felt his way into Captain Tip Harrison's office yesterday, and said he had been sent by the ordinary of his county to collect his pension for the coming fiscal year. It was of course impossible for the man to get the money, as the taxes to meet the appropriation have yet to be collected. Several similar cases have eccurred recently in spite of the notice sent the ordinaries of every county that by an executive order the payment for the year ending October 24th, 1890, will not be due until February 1st next. Many of the ordinaries are sending in their applications for pensions for men who have already been paid this year.

Manager Grau brings to Atlanta next week. Since the troupe has begun the season the most favorable criticisms have followed Manager Grauevery where, and all agree that the young maestro has surpassed himself in this new organization. The Roamoke Times of last week said:

"The Grau Opera company played the Brigands to the full capacity of the operahouse last night and played well. Miss Mary Greenwood, the star of the company, as Florella, the Brigand's daughter, dispayed the highest degree of artistic tasts and talent in her rendition of this character. Frageoletto, a young farmer, was vividly personified by Miss Lillie Airich. W. P. Guiberson, as Fal-acappa, the brigand chief, was a thorough conception of that lawless character. The duke of Mantau was ably represented by J. W. Gurvile. Harry Brown as Fletri, lieutenant to Falsacappa, kept the audience in a constant roar of laughter. As a whole the company is an excellent one and canuot fail to draw large houses wherever they go."

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, October 10.—Improvement in the money market made jurther progress today, and the restoration of passenger rates to Denver with en araging traffic returns gave the stock mrket a are still conirolled, to a large extent, by prosionals who are at present on the short side of the account and the history of the day's trans actions is chiefly comprised in efforts of the board to break prices by determined attacks upon a few stocks. The Atchison and New England were most conspicuous among these. These stocks furnished nearly half of the total business done, and they overshadowed the entire list. The bears gave considerable attention to cotton oil also, and reports of serious disturbance in the trust were out, though it was believed that selling more facilities. pose of breaking the price to cover shorts up on.
Bugar weakened in sympathy with cotton oil, and Missouri Pacific in sympathy with Atchison, though the impression upon neither was of special importance. The general list was affected to a limited extent by weakness in the leaders, but fluctuations, as well as business, was confined within narrow limits, and the decline established outside of the stocks mentioned and a few specialties were not worthy of mention. A strong featur was the Northern Pacific group of stock. Orego Transcontinental was specially strong, and shot up three per cent from its lowest figures, but reacted and lost a good proportion of the improvement, Louisville and Nashville was strong, but the tend-ency to advance was checked by the persistent sell-

Louisville and Nashville was strong, but the tendency to advance was checked by the persistent selling of leading shares, and St. Paul sold off slightly on a decrease in earnings for the first week in October. Manhattan was strong on the report of a decision in favor of the company, and Chattanooga and San Francisco moved up. Chesspeake and ohio stocks and Wisconsin Central were also conspicuous among the low prieed shares for strength. The market closed fairly active and heavy at something under the opening figures. A majority of stocks are materially lower tonight, and cotton oil is down 2½, sugar 1½, New England 1½, Atchison 13½ Missouri Pacific 1½, and Rock Island 1, while Oregon Transcontinental is up 3½ and Manhattan 1. NEW YORK, October 10.— [Special.]—Henry Clews &Co's circular on the cotton market today says: There was a fair demand for spot cotton this morning in Liverpool with sales of 100,000 bales at unchanged prices. The market for futures opened steady at 2-6id advance over yesterday's final figures in sympathy with the builtsh dispatches sent out from New York last night reporting serious damage to the crop by frost. There was a further gain of I-64@2-64d in the late trading and the close was firm at the advance. In view of the strong feeling which prevailed in our market yesterday, those advices were rather disappointing, as they did not quite come up to the expectations of the local buils, as the advance sustained hardly equalled ours of yesterday, and when our market opened the feeling was a trifle easier with heavy selling, but after the call a good demand sprung up and there was a quick rally in the market, which seiling, but after the call a good demand sprung up and there was a quick rally in the market, which carried prices up 2@3 points. Traders seemed inclined to await the agricultural bureau's report, as many had orders to sell or buy according to the report being favorable or unfavorable. The lowest prices of the day were reached about noon, and when the bureau report was announced, showing the average to be 81.4, there was quite a rush to cover by the shorts, and prices moved up quick five points. For some time there was a feverish and irregular feeling, but prices finally closed firm about the highest of the day. The total sales for the day were over 152,000 bales, which is big for the largest day's business recorded for some time past. Spot cotton ruled quiet and steady at unchanged prices. The following revision in grades of spot cotton has The following revision in grades of spot cotton has been made: Fair middling reduced 7-16, middling fair and strict good middling 6-16, and good middling 4:, strict low middling remains unchanged, and low middling and good ordinary reduced 1-64. The total receipts of the ports today were 38,870 bales against 38,986 last week and 31,183 bales iast year. Our private advices from the south today were free and all agree in reporting little if any damage has been done to the crops by frost or cool weather. Until the situation calms down and the agricultural report has been thoroughly digested, it will be a difficult matter to judge the market with any degree of correctness or certainty for the im-

NEW ORLEANS, October 10-[Special] -Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular today, say, Our anticipations as to the bureau report were verified today by an average by them of 81.4, which is more than one point less than we thought it should be, our impression being under 82, but we thought it should be. Our impressions being under 82, but we thought it more conservative to make an estimate between 82 and 83, as we did in our last report. The September conditions last year, which caused a drop of about five points in the October report, were the same last month, only more exaggerated, and from the same causes hence our expectations of a loss of four points or more. The average of last month's report for August was 86.6, thus showing a loss of 5.2. We have a cable from Liverpool this morning, saying if the average should be 82, will advance rapidly here. We therefore, anticipate considerably better market there tomorrow. A large business has been done here today at an advance of three points on near months, and four to five to spring and summer months. There would have been greater improvement here, but that there was The September conditions last year, which caused been greater improvement here, but that there was considerable disposition to realize prests on the late advance. We learn today that there is considerable short interests in New York for southern account, which is what we have thought for sometime past that the market has no stock and cannot get without prices in southern markets as high as they are, hence the danger of being short there. This market seems tempting to buy, as December and January are from 50 to 54 points under New York. F. o, b. sellers have largely withdrawn from the market, awaiting the action of Liverpool tomor-

Spots sales here 10,000 bales, and reported 1-16c higher than official quotations. Middling 10c.

NEW YORK, October 10-The Sun's cotton review says: Futures made a slight further advance. The says: Futures made a slight further advance. The demand was active, but it was freely met, causing an active speculation. There was something of a twist in October contracts, as stocks at this port continue very small. The damage by frost was restricted to a narrow strip in northern Georgia and western Carolinas. In other sections it has probably done more good than harm. Still the close was firm the heat prices of the day. firm the best prices of the day.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, October 10—Trading in wheat was very extensive and a decidedly bullish feeling prevailed. The view taxen by some of the traders is that the short interest is accountable for the sudden turn, while others predict an era of active speculation and still higher prices. Today's movement did not have the appearance of a strained market. The openin (was 1/4% higher than yesterday's closing, ruled a trifle easier thereafter, prices receding about 1/4. This movement was followed by a steady advance of 1/611/4/c, and the closing was 1/4c higher for December and 1/4c higher for May than yesterday. A ramor that the government erop report would show a further shortage of some 20 million bushels was no doubt one of the principal influences which gave impetus to the advance of today. Liberal export clearances had a decidedly strengthening effect.

A good trade was reported in corn, and the faciliary in the contraction of the corn, and the facility of the corn.

feeling in wheat. The volume of business was quite large, especially in May, which ruled firm on good buying by a large local speculation and one or two commission houses. Offerings of near futures were quite light at times, but there was some changing of October to May at 2%c premium for the latter month. The market opened firm at yesierday's closing prices, and under a good local demand advanced 1/60%c, became quiet but firm and closed 1/60%c, became quiet but firm and closed 1/60%c higher than yesterday.

There was less doing in oats today, but a stronger feeling was developed, and prices reacted 1/60 from the recent break under a good demand to cover shorts. One prominent operator covered a large line. The cash end of the market shared in the strength shown in May.

strength shown in May.

Provision traders obtained a little rest today from October pork. A few lots of new pork, tendered on October contracts, were refused today and sold out at auction at $10.47/6/$10.50. Straight October delivery closed nominally at $10.50. In the general product trade the leading feature was increased activity. January pork sustained an advance of Sol tryity. January pork sustained an advance of 50 and October and December shorts ribs 2½c. November short ribs were unchanged. For January, the favorite month, pork sold at $9.32½@3.71½. A Popular Grocer on Peachtree Street Offer $25.00 For the Best Loaf of Bread Made of

Mr. J. J. Duffy, one of the most popular retail greeers in the country, comes to the front this morning and offers $25 for the best loaf of bread made out of Duffy's Superlative flour, and exhibited at the coming Piedmont expesition. This is quite a liberal offer, and will, no doubt stimulate a great many people in the culinary line. The flour that Mr. Duffy has been selling—Duffy's Superlative—is said by those who have tried it, to be the very best. This being the case, Mr. Duffy, in making this offer to the ladies of Atlanta, will doubtless secure a large putronage for his flour. It is to be remembered that this loaf of bread is to be made only from Duffy's Superlative, and no other flour will be brought into competition. Mr. Duffy is not afraid to compete with other flours, but feeling that his flour is the best of all, offers $25 as a prize to the one making the fluest loaf of bread out of it. retail grocers in the country, comes to the front

it. It might be added in this connection that Mr. Duffy has been styled one of the leading retail grocers of Georgia. He keeps everything that is usually kept in a grocery store, and sells his goods at a reasonable profit. Being located on one of the finest streets in the city, Peachtree, he has a fine trade among the best class of people.

Now young ladies and old ladies, all who cook and all who eat, remember that Mr. Duffy offers the handsome sum of $25 for the best loat of bread made out of Duffy's Superlative flour, exhibited at the exposition company. The company will appoint judges to decide the matter.

The First in the South.

Ladies visiting Atlanta are invited to call and consult, if needed, Atlanta's most eminent female physician, Mrs. Rosa F. Monnish, M. D., the first and only female physician in her specialty south. She occepies with her husband, Dr. W. A. Monnish, the elegant three-story building at the junction of Peachtree, North Forsyth and Church streets, erected for her special use. Ladies' reception rooms, office and dispensary situated on first floor, while the two upper stories are used for a sanitarium. All modern conveniences, hot and cold water, gas, electric calls, etc., in every room: in fact, acknowledged the handsomest and best appointed sanitarium, enjoying the most liberal patronage of the ladies south. This sanitarium is not to be compared with other institutions or sanitariums, as the sanitarium and dispensary of Mrs. Dr. Monnish is for ladies only, and therefore strictly private. All patients remaining in the sanitarium receive separate rooms and enjoy the privileges and comforts of a first class home.

Connected with the sanitarium, but in a separate building, is a lying-in home for ladies who wish to be strictly private during confinement, where they will receive the best of attention compatible with their comfort and health.—adv
